Christmas Letter from your Rector

This month we will hear the words 'Merry Christmas' and 'Happy Christmas' many many times.

We will also be reminded about the Joy of Christmas in the message the angels gave. Now why do I mention this you may wonder, well a while ago the Archbishop of York, Dr John Sentamu, talked about the difference between joy and happiness in relation to the economic situation that we are in and many people's fears about Christmas. Would they be able to afford Christmas? Would it be a happy or Merry Christmas?

The thing that struck me about his words was the world of difference there is between Joy and Happiness. Happiness is like a passing emotion, you can be happy one moment and sad the next. Many people strive after happiness in their lives but because of its temporal nature, although people may catch hold of it now and then, they can never keep hold of it for long.

Joy on the other hand is a much deeper feeling and possesses the inner self. You can have a sense of joy even when things look bleak, it is almost like being an eternal optimist. And as I thought of happiness and Joy, I was reminded of the words of the angels when they brought 'joy to the world, the saviour comes, the saviour promised long'. They brought a message of Joy rather than happiness. They also brought the message 'do not fear, do not be afraid'. This message appears 365 times in the Bible one for each day of the year.

And so in this time of an uncertain financial future I would want you to be happy but much more I would want you to be joyful, full of the joy of Christmas, not all the commercial pressure to spend more for the economy, but the joy of knowing that you are loved and valued by the one who we remember at Christmas. Knowing the joy of loving somebody else, and knowing the value of any gift given is not dependant on the price tag.

So may we all this Christmas be thankful for what we have, in friends, family and health, rather than worry about what we have not or may not be able to buy. For surely the current economic situation reminds us all that you cannot buy joy or happiness with money.

So may you all find true joy at this time of year and have a Joyful and Christ filled Christmas. And I look forward to seeing you at the many Christmas and carol services this Christmas time.

God Bless Simon

Posada or Travelling Cribs Posada is a Spanish word for 'inn'.

Posada celebrations originated in Mexico where two young people would be chosen to dress up as Mary and Joseph. They would travel around their village telling people about the forthcoming arrival of Jesus, and asking if they would give him a room. Today we do not send two young children around the village, but we send the nativity figures of the Holy Family to visit your homes, also known as Travelling Cribs.

They are looking for somewhere to stay each night in December until Christmas

Travelling Crib: During December the nativity crib figures will travel around our village. These figures are very colourful and sturdy and suitable for all ages, even very small children. Please contact Helen Boswell to book the date you would like to welcome them into your home.

An invitation to children:

Please come to the Carol Service in Aynho church on Sunday December 21st at 5.0pm. dressed as one of the characters in The Nativity. If you wish to borrow a costume there will be a rack of clothes available in church on the evening, or contact Helen Boswell to collect a costume earlier. There will be an opportunity during the service for the children to lead worship around the Crib and to sing "Away in a Manger"

Contact: Helen Boswell Tel: 01869 810224.

POPPY APPEAL: How generous you are! Thank you for all the contributions to this appeal in what has been a special year of remembrance across the country. We have raised £720 through our house to house collectors covering the whole village and in our collecting point at the Cartwright Hotel, plus £176.50 from Sunday's church collection. Thank-you to all the collectors for their efforts. This year Aynho's contribution was up 10%.

"Live on to the memory of the fallen and the future of the living". If anyone would like to volunteer to be a collector in their part of the village please contact: Andrew Bellamy 810847.

What happens on Wednesday nights :

ARMS (AYNHO RECORDED MUSIC SOCIETY)

A most impressive programme was presented by Ian. He led us in a well structured and erudite manner from the Baroque to Classical and from there to the Romantic and finally to the Modern. He incorporated Palestrina and Allegri from the Baroque era with Mozart and Beethoven from the Classical period, followed by Verdi and Dvorak representing the Romantic to Shostakovich and Britten of the Modern. Many other composers were included and 18 items in all were played. Altogether a prodigious programme. Our next meeting will be December 3rd.

PHOTOGRAPHIC SOCIETY –

The next meeting of the Society is on 3 December, when Anne Sutcliffe will give a presentation entitled ‘Annie’s land.’ This will be followed on 7 January with a presentation by members of ‘My best images of 2014,’ and on 21 January there is a Workshop on ‘Night time photography and long exposures.’ All meetings are at 7.30pm in the Cartwright Hotel, Aynho. Please come along, everyone is very welcome.

AYNHO GARDENING CLUB –

It was good to see so many of you at the AGM and final Gardening Club evening of this year. I will now look forward to seeing you on Wednesday 14th January 2015 for our January talk entitled ‘This Gardening Year’. The talk will start at the earlier time of 7.30pm but we will be ready to re-new your annual Membership prior to the talk.

In the meantime the Committee wish all the Members of the Aynho Gardening Club a Very Happy Christmas.

WINTER LUNCH CLUB

Thursday 4, 11 and 18 December 2014 in the back room of the Village Hall
12.15pm-1.30pm

No 'membership' required, anyone can come (young or old) and hopefully enjoy home-cooked lunch in a warm, friendly place at very reasonable prices. Choose from soup, baked potato, another hot main dish such as Macaroni Cheese or Risotto, a hot pudding with custard, or a biscuit with tea and coffee. On 18th December we will have a few Christmas treats as this will be the last Lunch before Christmas. We then have a break over Christmas and will be back on Thursday 8th January 2015. The number of regulars coming to Lunch seems to have increased this year. If you plan to bring a few friends/family on 18th December or at any other time please let me know so that I can prepare enough food!

DEFIBRILLATOR FOR AYNHO – Along with WLC profit and some very kind donations, the amount raised towards the Defibrillator and Cabinet as at 14th November has reached £1,329.29. A huge thank you to everyone who has supported this fundraising so far. We have a little way to go to reach the target total of approx £2,500 (defibrillator c£1,000 + external cabinet c£1,500) so if you would like to contribute please be in touch with me or Andy Anderson (Parish Council). BIODIVERSITY GROUP—Plants of the Month: Holly, Ivy, Mistletoe

Holly

There are about 400 species of holly which can grow up to 15m in height and live for 300 years. It produces either male or female flowers but it is the female that goes on to produce red berries as long as there is a male within a 2 mile radius. A lot of wildlife rely on the holly tree. It provides dense cover and good nesting opportunities for birds, while its deep, dry leaf litter may be used by hedgehogs and small mammals for hibernation. The flowers provide nectar and pollen for bees and other pollinating insects, the leaves are eaten by caterpillars of the holly blue butterfly, as well as various moths while the smooth leaves found at the tops of holly trees are a source of food for deer in winter. The berries are a vital source of food for birds in winter, and are also eaten by small mammals such as wood mice and dormice.

English Ivy

English Ivy has dark green glossy leaves which have 3 or 5 lobes (like a maple leaf) on young stems and heart shaped on flowering ones. In September/October time it produces yellowish-green flowers in small clusters which are followed by ripe fruit from November to January. Ivy's late flowering season makes it a valuable source of nectar for many insects before they hibernate particularly bees and butterflies and the berries provide an abundant food source during the most severe winter months when there is little else to eat. As ground cover in woodland it greatly lessens the effect of frost and growing on trees it provides hiding, roosting, hibernating and nesting places for animals, birds and insects.

Mistletoe

Mistletoe has evergreen leaves which are elliptical in shape. It is a parasite living on trees and penetrating their vascular system sucking out nutrients and water. It is slow growing, however, and a healthy tree can usually cope with some mistletoe although it may weaken it. The most common host tree in the UK is the apple but poplar, lime and hawthorn are also used. There are centuries of superstition attached to the mistletoe. To the Ancient Greeks it was sacred while the Druids hung sprigs outside their doorways as a protection against thunder, lightning and other evils. In Norse Mythology, Baldr, one of their gods was killed by a weapon made out of mistletoe. His father Frigg's tears became the pearlescent berries and he decreed that instead of being punished, mistletoe should become a symbol of peace and friendship. Some think this was the origin of kissing under the mistletoe!

Did You Know?

- Holly: The use of holly as a symbolic winter decoration goes back in history to the Celtic peoples of Northern Europe, who decorated their homes with it during the time of the winter solstice, or Yule.
- Holly: Holly extracts have been used in folk remedies for dizziness and hypertension. Today, holly leaf preparations are used in alternative treatments for coughs, digestive problems, jaundice, joint pain, swelling, hypertension, and to boost heart health. But health experts note that very little scientific research has been published to verify the health benefits of these remedies, and that those pretty red berries are known to be poisonous if swallowed.
- Ivy: Wearing a wreath of ivy leaves around the brow is supposed to prevent drunkenness!
- Ivy: All parts of the ivy plant are toxic to humans.
- Mistletoe: Some skin cosmetics, shampoos etc. contain mistletoe though it is rarely mentioned on the main label. Look out for it in the list of ingredients under its scientific name 'Viscum Album'
- Mistletoe: The proper etiquette for kissing under the mistletoe: 1. The man can only kiss the girl on the cheek. 2. When he does so he removes one berry from the sprig. 3. When there are no berries left the kissing stops!

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

THE BENBOW FAMILY would like to thank all friends and neighbours for the cards, flowers and tributes we were given when we lost our amazing son Terry so suddenly to meningitis on Sept. 30th. We had lived in Aynho for 28 years so it felt right to have his funeral in St. Michael's church. The funeral had to be arranged at very short notice and the family were numb with shock, so we offer our heartfelt thanks to The Rev. Simon Dommert and The Rev. Frank Ultsch who took the service so beautifully between them, and helped along with Sybil to sort out the order of service and the hymns. The music, the flowers, the food, the signage, and the transport did not arrange themselves, and neither did we, so we thank everyone who stepped in and somehow made it all happen. The church was overflowing with love that day and we appreciate how lucky we are to have lived in Aynho and had been a part of that supportive community for all of those years.

Terry began 1st Fritwell Scouts as a beaver at the age of 6 and went on through cubs, scouts, venture scouts and eventually became a Scout Leader. Frank and Sheila Ultsch along with the other scout leaders became Terry's second family and were a great influence in his life. He rarely missed a meeting or a fundraising event and gave up lots of holiday and weekends to take the scouts on outings. They will miss him greatly as young Scout Leaders are hard to come by these days. Terry's last fundraising event was the collection at his funeral which so far has amounted to £800 giving a much appreciated boost to funds. Terry would be very proud and grateful for this gift to a very worthy cause.

We had a family discussion many years ago about organ donating so we all knew when the time came that Terry wanted to be a donor. I would recommend that all families do this so that they are aware of their loved ones wishes before they have to make a decision during a time of extreme emotion. Life goes on and even after death Terry gave the gift of life to six others through organ donating, and a gift of sight to two blind people through donating his corneas. We have been advised by the transplant team that all the transplants have gone well and some of the recipients have already left hospital and gone home. I wish with all my being that it hadn't had to be my son that died but, knowing that his last wish was granted, and a 30 year old woman with a new heart can now be a mother to her children, somehow makes it seem just a little less futile. It does not lessen the pain of losing a son, a husband, a brother or an uncle, but it does offer a glimmer of comfort. If any of you are thinking of becoming a donor please remember that Terry was only 30 years when he died suddenly so don't put it off until it is too late.

On behalf of Terry, his family and his Scout Group I would like to thank you all for your kindness, support, generosity and love. Yours truly Angie Benbow.
